

48TH ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM on the AMERICAN INDIAN

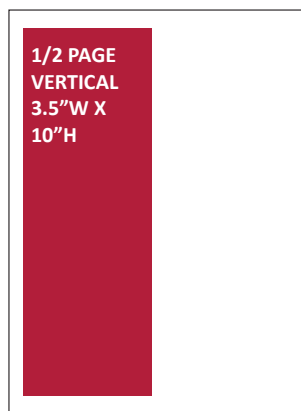

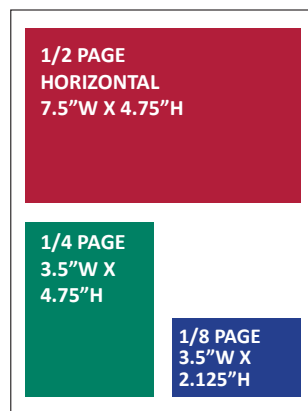

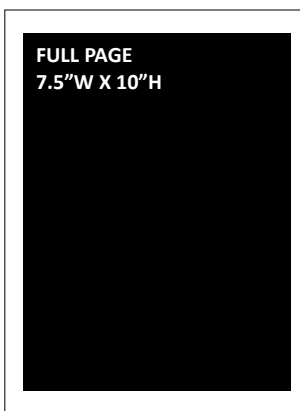

2021 Program Ad Rates

ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

In 1972, a program of distinguished Native American lecturers was presented on the Northeastern State University campus, laying the foundation for what has become the Annual Symposium on the American Indian. The symposium employs an interdisciplinary approach to examining historic and contemporary topics such as sovereignty, environmental issues within tribal contexts, Native language revitalization, health and social well-being and the persistence of Indigenous peoples within the global society.
